PSP Spotlight—Skin Care Products and Cosmetics

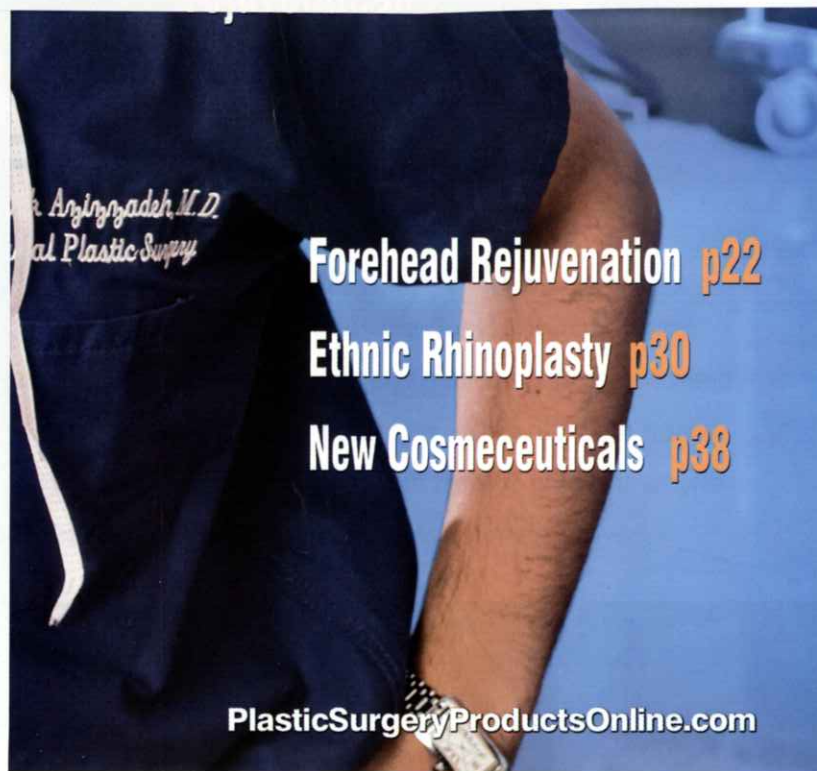

With the variety of skin care products and cosmetics on the market, choosing a product that will provide all the benefits that patients are seeking is confusing. Today's skin care products and cosmetics provide antiaging benefits and treatments for a variety of skin conditions. The items featured here combat and prevent dry, oily, and sun-damaged skin, as well as wrinkles, acne, and other skin problems.

Environ Skin Care

Environ Skin Care's Body Profile is a body-sculpturing gel that is formulated to smoothen, tighten, and condition the skin. It contains ingredients that help reduce the "orange-peel" effect seen on the thighs, upper arms, and abdomen. Some ingredients are Pronalen Modeling™, which contains antioxidant properties; guarana (Paullinia cupana seed extract), which helps drain fatty overloads by improving circulation; and Myriciline™, which is involved in metabolic processes that are related to the storage of fat, including: adipogenesis, which decreases the development of mature fat cells; lipolysis, which increases the destruction of accumulated fat; and lipogenesis, which avoids the creation of new fat cells. The ingredients eliminate excess fluids and strengthen the moisture-barrier properties of the skin to boost the skin's elasticity.
